Pratyush Raj, better known by his alias Bass Rebellion, is an electronic music artist, producer and a DJ at the crossroads of House, Techno and Psytrance.

With groovy basslines, hypnotic synths, and euphoric hooks, his music hits where rhythm meets emotion. A versatile discography consisting of original compositions, electronic renditions of Vedic Mantras and remakes/remixes showcase his musical aesthetic.

The tagline "Into the psychedelic abyss" is an invitation to his soundscape.

Discovering electronic music in his teens, he rapidly developed an interest in producing music of his own, giving birth to the alias 'Bass Rebellion'.

- In 2015, he dropped his debut bigroom inspired track 'Mist' and followed it up with some notable releases like 'Gharana'.
- His first major breakthrough came with tracks like 'Hanuman Rhythm' & 'Rama Anthem' introducing millions to the soundscape of spiritual psychedelic music.
- Subsequently, he got nominated as the 'Best Electronica Artist' in the widely acclaimed 'RadioCity - People's Choice Awards' in 2019.
- By 2025, he embarked on a new direction by blending electronic dance music with Indian vocals/compositions dropping releases like 'Chal Pade', 'Ek Sitara' and his album 'Take You Beyond'.

Over the years, the ever growing collection of his original compositions, a vast array of his mantra fused psychedelic tracks, remakes of retro film music and remixes, have helped him hit the charts on platforms like iTunes, Apple Music, Spotify globally and develop a niche audience.

Bass Rebellion is a full-stack creator. From producing music, designing the cover art to directing music videos, every aspect of his project carries his fingerprint.

He is now working on newer projects - built for dark rooms, moving bodies and peak-time dance floors. With loads of forthcoming releases, sets and performances, a hobby which has evolved into an ambitious musical journey, is earmarked to represent the new wave of electronic music in the subcontinent and beyond.
